Class History

In 1949, 44 pupils enrolled in the Freshman class. Leading them through this year were the following officers: President, Ronnie Jones; Vice President, Barbara Foust; Secretary, Marlene Clark; and Senators, Barbara Burke and Joan Jensen. Paul Walker was Treasurer. The exciting event of this year was the initiation, which turned out to be a great deal of fun. With the leadership of those officers, they made their first year in high school a successful one.

Leaving the title of "Greenies" behind, they began their Sophomore year. This year they chose the following officers: President, Ronnie Jones; Vice President, Barbara Holladay; Secretary, Barbara Burke; Treasurer, Paul Walker; and Senators, Joan Jensen and Barbara Foust. The school turned a dazzling color when they purchased gold and black class sweaters. They also had their chance in the traditional initiating of the Freshmen. This turned out very well. So their first two years in high school were very successful.

The day then came when they were considered upperclassmen--they were Juniors. This eventful year was handled under the capable leadership of these officers: President, Barbara Burke; Vice President, Barbara Holladay; Secretary, Joan Jensen; Treasurer, Don Corbin; and Senators, Richard Allseitz and Marlene Clark. Raising money was their main objective, and they started by selling candy at ballgames and during noon. Most of it was spent on the annual Jr.-Sr. activity, which was a banquet and prom with the theme, "An Underwater Scene". They bought class rings, and gave the play, "Damon in the Dark". Although this was a very busy year, no complaints were heard.

Then the last step in their journey came. They were at last Seniors. Leading them through the year were: President, Barbara Burke; Vice President, David Allseitz; Secretary, Joan Jensen; Treasurer, Sis Foust; and Senators, Bob Penzel and Ronnie Jones. In what seemed no time at all, Baccalaureate and Commencement were over, and they were no longer students in high school. But they will never forget the good old days during their journey through WHS.

David's Dieting Salon
Havana, Cuba

Dear David,

The other evening as I was casually reading my paper, I saw your dieting ad:

DIET DAVID'S WAY
LOSE MANY POUNDS PER DAY

This brought back memories of our school mates, so I thought I'd write and let you know what I've heard of the rest of the class.

You remember Earcie Allen, don't you? Her last name is now Ketchum. She married Don and they are living in Hammond.

Marlene Clark and Beverly Feksch own a modeling school. Beverly is a teacher in the school, and Marlene poses for magazines in her spare time.

Have you listened to the radio lately? Mildred Clark has a radio program of her own called "The Homemaker's Daily Guide to Happy Living". You can hear it on station WTC at 8:30 A.M. Monday through Friday.

Richard Davis and Sharon McIntosh got married after graduation. They now live in Florida, where Richard owns and operates a large orange grove.

You've heard about the big flood in the Missouri Valley region, haven't you? Well, Bob Fenzel, who owns 1,000 acres of good farming land near there, lost all of it during the flood last year, and has joined the Foreign Legion.

Mrs. Kellner, the former Sis Foust, and her husband, Leon, own a night club in Reno. James Wireman and his "Rhythmairs" are now starring there.

The new football coach at St. Joseph's college is none other than Ronnie Jones. He graduated from Indiana University.

Have you seen any of the paintings of the famous artist known to us as Bernadine Moss? She just finished a portrait of the new President, Paul Walker.

Don Corbin and Leo Current have gone into partnership in the Flying Saucer business. They seem to be doing quite well for themselves.

In case you don't pay attention to reference initials, Joan Jensen is my private secretary. She has been working for me about eight years.

Mrs. Firman Walker, the former JoAnn Stanton, is now traveling through Europe on a sight-seeing trip.

Berdene Neely is a buyer for the Marshall Field store in Chicago. She has made quite a success of the business.

Last but not least is Wesley Pierson. He now owns a health clinic in Arizona. This is the spot for the annual get-together of the Health League.

Well, I guess that takes care of everybody, and I am running out of time, so will close for now.

Expecting to hear from you soon, I remain

Your friend,

Barbara Burke

JUNIOR STORY

On September 4th the familiar shuffle of feet again was heard in the halls of W.H.S. and another school year was under way.

To the Juniors, this meant nine months of hard work mixed with an equal amount of good clean fun.

At the first class meeting, four competent class officers were chosen to lead the Juniors, and two well-qualified senators to represent them in the Senate.

The class immediately began working together to help fill the hole in the class treasury. Their first project was the selling of blue-glass plaques, which helped greatly to push the treasury goal forward. They also sold school pins, pennants, and caps, and followed the footsteps of previous Juniors by selling candy at ballgames and at noon.

One of the most thrilling experiences in their whole school career is when they are Juniors and receive their class rings. Admiring "ohs" and "ahs" are heard for weeks, and no one could be prouder or more excited than the Juniors themselves.

Then came the play! The anxiety of those who tried out for parts was overwhelming, but after all the fun was over, everyone agreed that the play was not only a tremendous hit, but well worth all the effort.

No other school event would put the proper final touches on the Junior year like the Junior-Senior prom. And here, the class of '54 wishes to tip their hats to Miss Stroup, their sponsor. She helped make this year a pleasant one for them, and because of that, they will look forward to their senior year with added enthusiasm.

SOPHOMORE STORY

Between the "green freshman" and "sophisticated juniors" comes a very dignified group called Sophomores. They have conquered their frightful first year in high school and are now taking the steep second step toward their diplomas.

To begin a very active year, the class of '55 realized the necessity of selecting efficient class officers. They met this challenge, as well as many more to come during the year, with good common sense.

Like you associate pupils with school, you think of the Sophomores initiating the new freshman class. Although, the initiation has now been discontinued, memories of being a freshman will always remind us of our initiation.

A very deserving hand also goes to their sponsors Mrs. Hanley, and later, Miss Smith.

As a method of replenishing their treasury, they began a magazine drive. For the carnival, the boys elected Cheryn Minor their choice for queen. Their winnings boosted the "source of supply".

Not to be outdone by upper classmen's rings and pictures, the Sophomores ordered navy blue and white sweaters. All agreed that their sweaters added a very distinguishing note to the halls of Wheatfield High.

Next year this class will fill the shoes of triumphant juniors and, because of how capably they have handled this year's problems, there is no doubt in our minds that they will again pass with flying colors.

FRESHMAN STORY

In every school, and Wheatfield High is no exception, there must be a good natured, jovial group who will provide the upper classmen with material for some practical jokes. This group has always been tabbed "Freshies". It is realized what an empty feeling comes over a person when he first recognizes the problems he has to face when entering high school, but never-the-less, not much mercy is displayed for this group. That is part of being a Freshman.

To lead them through their new experiences, the class of '56 chose reliable class officers and senators. Mr. Shreve served as sponsor.

One of the most difficult jobs one must face in high school is the chore of being the guinea pig at initiation. Fearful of what is to come, it is the "Freshies" job to offer entertainment to the upper classmen on this terrifying day. They have to dress in silly costumes and serve as slaves to the "Kings and Queens Sophomores".

A class as large as the Freshman class of this year must be commended on their ability to work together. Through hard efforts, the class of '56 has left their title of "freshies" to the on-coming freshman class of next year. May that class also endure the title as well as this one.
